

Want to Sell or Exchange Anything?
Tee-Dee Want Ads.
will do it for you.

The Times

Dispatch

Boards
Want to Rent Your
Rooms. Use Tee-Dee
Want Ads. and you will get them.

THIS TIMES, FOUNDED 1854.
THE DISPATCH, FOUNDED 1850.

WHOLE NUMBER 14,639.

RICHMOND, VA., THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 1904.

PRICE TWO CENTS.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY'S NEWS

The Weather.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Forecast for Thursday and Friday: Fair in east portion Thursday, followed by much cooler; brisk to high northwest winds; Friday fair.
North Carolina—Fair and much cooler Thursday, diminishing northwest winds; Friday fair.

Heavy rains, little sunshine, high wind and a decided drop in the temperature at night were the marked characteristics of the weather in Richmond yesterday.

RANGE OF THE THERMOMETER.

9 A. M.	75
12 M.	78
3 P. M.	74
6 P. M.	72
9 P. M.	70
12 midnight	68
Average	71.5

Highest temperature yesterday..... 81
Lowest temperature yesterday..... 68
Mean temperature yesterday..... 72
Normal temperature for September... 70
Departure from normal temperature... +2
Precipitation during past 24 hours.... 1.16

Richmond.

The crossing of electric wires causes several blazes and intense excitement in the banking district, but very little damage is done—Severe storm prevailing in Virginia and North Carolina strikes Richmond, accompanied by heavy rains. Water Committee takes determined steps looking to insuring a pure water supply for the city. Union Theological Seminary opens with interesting exercises and a large attendance. Teachers are assigned and final preparations made for the opening of the public schools to-day. Mr. Leland Rankin, publisher of the News Leader, seriously ill—Corporation committee hearing representatives of railroads on tax assessments; several characters granted—Private advices received here of the death of Bonaville, Boston's mayor—Several well-known residents in Richmond—Details being perfected for the trip of Governor and staff and the Blues to St. Louis—Oyster season opened—Central Trades and Labor Council to realize a sang-sum from the Labor Day celebration—University football team to begin practice next week—Candidates for the House speakership at work—Small fire in Seventh Street Christian Church, believed to have resulted from neglected stove—Richmond Academy to open next Monday—Men picked out to constitute an Eastern League team here—Every prospect that the House show will be a big success—MAYNARD—Advertising men and advance men for the carnival arrive; contest for Queen of Carnival—Many incidents in Chesterfield.

Virginia.

Norfolk negro in ante-mortem statement declares a policeman shot him—C. V. Meredith retained by the administration faction in Norfolk to present their case—Attorney sues the city of Norfolk for a fine and leave the case to Judge Aiken's hands for arbitration—The steamer Louise breaks from her moorings at Newport News and blows seven miles off shore—Schuyler and Esomont Railroads ready for operators decide to make 10 per cent. reduction a constant set to negro into a lady's room to arrest her—Governor Montague grants second respite to Henry Dickinson, sentenced in Prince George to hang—Richmond young man left at night in a building in Chesterfield—Court martial to try members of Seventy-first Regiment in Norfolk.

North Carolina.

A cyclone visits Wile, N. C., and tears things to smithereens; a heavy blow at Wilmington and off the coast expected to develop much damage; heavy blow at Raleigh and Durham and at Greensboro; one child fatally hurt—Captain R. B. Glenn makes a great speech in the Sherrill murder case; case in hands of the jury.

General.

Inactivity in the Far East continues and no fighting of a general character is reported. Russians will probably winter at Harbin; Kuropatkin sends Emperor report of the Japanese army; the Emperor has received report from Lieutenant-General Stosel to the effect that the situation at Port Arthur is most critical. For a week there has been no meat, and only a small quantity of flour, while the ammunition there is not sufficient for a long resistance. Everything is prepared in the event of a successful Japanese assault.

THINKS ROCK ISLAND IS AFTER SOUTHERN

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NEW YORK, September 14.—A theory regarding the advance in Southern Railway is that the stock is being bought through the hands of J. P. Morgan and Company for the Rock Island interest. The voting trust is controlled by Morgan interests and probably could be terminated if they were willing to see the control passed to another road. In this connection it was recalled that Rock Island at one time contemplated the purchase of the Southern, but was not altogether satisfied with the result of an examination of the property. This is, by some, thought to indicate a purpose, which might be fulfilled through purchase of Southern Railway, Southern and Rock Island control, forming a powerful line, practically across the continent.

ALL PRISONERS IN WILCOX JAIL ESCAPE

(By Associated Press.)
MOBILE, ALA., Sept. 14.—A special from Birmingham says that all the prisoners confined in the Wilcox county jail broke jail and escaped to-day. Four alleged murderers were in the party. Bloodhounds will be out on their track.

WANT HELP TO-DAY.

The 16 advertisements for help published in to-day's Times-Dispatch on page 8 are as follows:
3 Trades. 2 Agents.
2 Office Help. 2 Domestic.
3 Salesmen. 1 Saleswoman.
5 Miscellaneous.
This not only interests those out of work, but those who want to improve their position as well.

BIG STORM REACHES RICHMOND

High Wind. Heavy Rain and Telegraph Service Impaired.

ELECTRIC WIRES CUT UP ANTICS.

Becoming Crossed, They Cause Flashes on Many Buildings in Banking District and Cause Great Excitement—Several Persons Shocked—Severe in North Carolina.

The storm of rain and wind that struck this city early last evening and reached its height between 9:20 and 10:30 o'clock was one of the most terrific blows remembered here for several years, and appears to have been general in Eastern North Carolina and Virginia, being worst on the Carolina coast. All Tuesday night and yesterday the storm of rain, swept Eastern North Carolina, and yesterday afternoon reached Virginia; and swept up the coast extending inland.

About 8:30 o'clock a downpour of rain drenched those who had to be out, and the storm increased in intensity and fury as the minutes passed, with brief respite, followed by fresh torrents. About 9:20 a terrific storm of wind and rain swept through the streets from west to east, the rain being driven in blinding sheets that made umbrellas useless and raincoats of little value. All who were caught out in this blowing rain were drenched to the skin, and a few were blown off their feet. The fury of the wind was accompanied by the rain that it was difficult to make any headway against it. This wind and rain continued for half an hour or more, after which the wind lulled, but the rain continued in great volume.

Pranks of the Wires.

The velocity and force of the wind demoralized the wire service of several of the railways and badly hampered the telegraph offices. The fury of the wind deranged the electric wires system in this city and caused several heavily charged wires to come in contact with others and fire several buildings and charge the iron fronts so that several persons were severely shocked.

Drops His Lantern.

Just half an hour after midnight an alarm came in from Eleventh and Main streets, where a fire had broken out. A fire engine, five of them, with two trucks and several hose wagons, came lumbering down the streets again, followed by a swarming crowd. This time the alarm was due to a contact of wires upon the roof of the Merchants Bank building and it was thought the structure was ablaze within. Firemen with the chemical hose went into the building and up to the roof.

BANKERS VOTE PROPOSAL DOWN

Feature of Session a Spirited Discussion of Fidelity Plan.
(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—The feature of the annual sessions to-day of the thirty-fourth annual convention of the American Bankers' Association in this city was a spirited discussion of what has been known as the Fidelity Plan. This involved the question of the organization entering into fidelity insurance business. The debate to-day was evoked by a proposed amendment to the legislation providing for the appointment of trustees by the executive council of the body for the administration of a fund to be termed "The American Bankers' Guaranty Fund." This fund to be devoted to the insurance of members against any dishonest acts by their employees. The convention voted the proposal down.

WILL HE SIDE TRACK IT?

CALL EACH OTHER LIARS

Wise and Quigg Have Lively Tilt—Odell Victory Over Senator Platt.

HIGGINS WILL BE NAMED

Judge Parker Leaves for New York—To Revive Democratic Clubs in the Country.

(By Associated Press.)
SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept. 14.—At 11 o'clock to-night there was every reason to believe that the following ticket, chosen by the Higgins supporters, would be nominated by the Republican State Convention to-morrow:

Governor—Frank W. Higgins, of Catawagus.
Lieutenant-Governor—M. Linn Bruce, of New York.
Secretary of State—John O. C'Brien, of Clinton.
Attorney-General—Julius M. Mayer, of New York.
State Treasurer—John D. Wallenmeier, of Erie.
State Engineer and Surveyor—Henry A. Van Alstyne, of Columbia.
Chief Judge of the Court of Appeals—Edgar M. Cullen, of Kings.
Associate Judge of the Court of Appeals—William E. Werner, of Monroe.

Odell Against Platt.

The apparently tangled political situation here yesterday had resolved itself by the time the Republican State Convention actually met to-day into a plain contest between Governor Odell and Senator Platt, which the former and his friends until the last moment were trying to keep from taking open form upon the floor of the convention.

Much Good Already.

Mr. Bolling said that it was at Dr. Levy's suggestion that Mayor McCarthy had ordered the spring on Ninth Street, between Main and Cary, closed. The flow of water there was cut off on Tuesday, and Dr. Levy discovered that it contained germs of disease.

STARTLING RECORD OF TRAGIC DEATHS

Reign of Outlawry in Chicago Results in Over Twenty Fatalities.
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—Chicago's startling record of tragic deaths at the hands of bandits during the past nine months is a striking exhibit of the reign of outlawry, which has swept over this city. During this period more than twenty deaths have been attributed to hold ups on Chicago Streets and in business houses, while the hospitals have taken in scores of patients dangerously but not fatally hurt by criminals. For these twenty-one deaths, eighteen widows, thirty-eight orphans and two devoted bachelors have been forced to suffer.

TEN ARE INDICTED FOR LYCHING

HUNTSVILLE, ALA., Sept. 14.—The special grand jury investigating the shooting of Horace Maples, the negro who killed John Waldrop, has reported ten indictments against alleged members of the mob. Arrests will quickly follow.

FIGHT FOR PURE WATER

Dr. Levy to be Continued as Expert for a Year.

HAS DONE MUCH GOOD

Superintendent Bolling Says His Tests Have Protected Public Health.

Richmond authorities are doing all in their power to protect the public health of the city through the medium of pure water, and there is now no epidemic of disease here which has its source in water conditions.

Made Partial Report.

The tests to be made by Dr. Levy were to continue for three months. The time expired a few days ago, and last night Dr. Levy submitted a partial report of his work to the committee, along with the recommendation that it be continued for one year from date, permitting the expert employed to establish a laboratory for his work on the river bank, and to secure the necessary equipments for a more thorough investigation. The tests heretofore made have been at the Medical College of Virginia, which institution kindly tendered the use of its laboratory to Dr. Levy. The recommendation of Dr. Levy was heartily endorsed by Superintendent Bolling, who pointed out some of the good results from the former's work up to this time.

Much Good Already.

Mr. Bolling said that it was at Dr. Levy's suggestion that Mayor McCarthy had ordered the spring on Ninth Street, between Main and Cary, closed. The flow of water there was cut off on Tuesday, and Dr. Levy discovered that it contained germs of disease.

Other impurities in the water in different sections of the city were discovered by Dr. Levy and promptly remedied. The Water Committee ordered an ordinance to be reported to the Council, appropriating $2,700 to carry on the work for a period of one year, according to Dr. Levy's recommendations.

Mr. Rankin Very Ill, BUT MAY RECOVER

Mr. Leland Rankin, publisher of the News Leader, continues extremely ill at the residence of Mr. John C. Robertson, near Forest Hill, where his family has been summering.

Found Dead in Bed.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
BALTIMORE, MD., Sept. 14.—Edward J. Wiegand, of Richmond, Va., about sixty-five years old, was found dead in bed at Henry Shaffer's Hotel, 33 West Pratt street, late tonight. His death was probably due to heart disease.

REPAIRS ARE MUCH NEEDED

Lena Can be Put in Seaworthy Condition in From Twenty to Thirty Days.

THIRD INSPECTION BEGUN

Disposition of Vessel Will Depend Upon Result of Investigation.

(By Associated Press.)
SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., September 14.—Guarded by several American warships, the Russian auxiliary cruiser Lena lies in the same position in the bay, where she dropped anchor Sunday afternoon. To-day, under the direction of the United States navy, a third inspection of the Lena was begun, and the disposition of the vessel will doubtless depend upon the result of the investigation.

In Need of Repairs.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Active exchanges were in progress to-day between the officials of the State and Navy Departments respecting the case of the Russian transport Lena at San Francisco. Acting Secretary Adeo deems it inexpedient to make a public statement touching this matter until a final decision has been reached, and as to the course to be pursued in the case of the Lena.

The report of the Inspector of boilers and hulls at San Francisco is substantially as follows:
The boilers and engines are both badly in need of repairs. To put in new boilers will require from four to six months. The Inspector says that the vessel can be put in a seaworthy condition in from twenty to thirty days and repaired so that she would be able to make about eight knots. This is regarded by the officials of the Navy Department as entirely within the term "reasonable time" used in the President's proclamation.

MR. RANKIN VERY ILL, BUT MAY RECOVER

Mr. Leland Rankin, publisher of the News Leader, continues extremely ill at the residence of Mr. John C. Robertson, near Forest Hill, where his family has been summering.

Found Dead in Bed.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
BALTIMORE, MD., Sept. 14.—Edward J. Wiegand, of Richmond, Va., about sixty-five years old, was found dead in bed at Henry Shaffer's Hotel, 33 West Pratt street, late tonight. His death was probably due to heart disease.

WILL BLOW UP FORT IF CAPTURED

Situation at Port Arthur Said to Be Very Desperate.

RUSSIANS PLAN TO WINTER AT HARBIN

Two Months More of Fighting, However, May Change Looks of Things—Kuroki Trying to Turn Russian Left at Mukden.

Inactivity of the opposing armies of Russia and Japan continues, and no fighting of a general character is reported. Information coming from an authoritative source in St. Petersburg is that the Russians will winter at Harbin, but the fact that there probably will be two months of good weather for military operations before extreme cold weather sets in, leaves room for a revision of this purpose in the light of events that may transpire. The Japanese are reported to be collecting taxes and otherwise administering affairs in Manchuria, as though that country were conquered territory.

The publication of General Kuropatkin's report of the fighting from August 26th until the retreat upon Mukden has created a better feeling in St. Petersburg. The report distinctly places upon General Orloff the responsibility for the failure to hold the heights in the vicinity of Sykwanon and so check the Japanese advance.

A dispatch from Sin Min Tun suggests the likelihood of an early engagement near Mukden. Kuroki is apparently trying to turn the Russian left, and the movement is believed to be the forerunner of another battle. It is not likely that Kuropatkin will relinquish his hold upon the town without a fight. The Russian fortification of Tieling is proceeding on an immense scale.

SITUATION CRITICAL.

Reported That Stosel Will Blow Up Fortress if Captured.

FORERUNNER OF BATTLE.

Kuroki Apparently Trying to Turn the Russian Left at Mukden.

(Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch. Copyright, 1904.)

SIN MIN TUN, Sept. 14.—From all that can be learned of the movements of the Russian army, it would seem that Kuropatkin does not intend to relinquish his hold on Mukden without once more joining issue with Oyama. Reports received here indicate that Meyeroff's army has begun the work of strengthening the defenses of Mukden and have impressed into their service a large number of coolies, who are employed in digging trenches and rifle pits. It is estimated that the Russians have about sixty thousand men still at Mukden.

At Tieling, the work of fortification is said to be progressing very rapidly. It is planned on an immense scale, the nature of the position is such that many military men consider it impregnable. It is estimated that the Russians have about sixty thousand men still at Mukden.

LAST OF TROOPS LEAVE MANASSAS

Southern Railway Transports Ninety-two Train Loads Without Accident.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., September 14.—The last of the troops present at the recent regular army and militia maneuvers left here at 2:30 P. M. to-day when a train pulled out carrying the soldiers and animals, whose duty it was to camp to the end. The breaking up of camp began last Saturday at 5 o'clock, when the Southern Railway carried away the first train load of militia. From that time until this afternoon the Southern Railway transported ninety-two trains of troops, baggage and animals. No accident of any kind occurred to any of the trains.

THE THIN GRAY LINE IN CAMP

Confederate Veterans Enjoy Hospitality in Lynchburg.

JUDGE CHRISTIAN'S STIRRING REPORT

General Munford Makes a Stirring Address in Behalf of Garland-Rhodes Camp—The Adjutant's Report Shows Heavy Mortality in the Ranks.

(Special from a Staff Correspondent.)
LYNCHBURG, VA., September 14.—From the red-brown waters of the James to the lofty summit of Courthouse Hill, Lynchburg to-day was a-flutter with flags and gay with Confederate colors in honor of the seventeenth annual meeting of the Grand Camp, Confederate Veterans, Department of Virginia.

Though the day broke dark and cheerless, and though from the low-hanging clouds rain fell heavily, the streets of the city were alive with the gray, badge-bedecked coats of the veteran brigade, and when at 11 o'clock Grand Commander George L. Christian called the camp to order, the spacious warehouse, in which the meeting was held, was crowded to the doors.

On the Platform.

On a broad platform were seated the officers of the Grand Camp, the sponsors and malads of honor, and distinguished citizens of Lynchburg. In calling the camp to order, Grand Commander Christian spoke a few earnest words, voicing his appreciation of the occasion.

"This great day," said the grand commander, holding it aloft, "was presented to the camp by one of the most earnest daughters of the Confederacy, Mrs. George W. Nelms, of Newport News. It was made from the timbers of the battleship Virginia."

Sincere Applause.

Judge Christian concluded amid the most sincere applause. He then presented to the audience General Thomas T. Munford, who extended a cordial welcome to the Grand Camp. On behalf of the Grand Camp, General Christian responded in an address which was greeted with applause and evidence of entire approval.

"To you, Fair Sponsors and Malads of Honor, Ah! happy years once more. Who would not wish to be young again, amid a scene and occasion like this. Represented to the highest type of culture, refinement, beauty and tenderness; elements which hope will never desert, and upon whom posterity will ever smile. We greet you as household goddesses. That is all, that we older folks can do. We know that your ancestors have been and we know that woman is always right in love and war. We recall that Othello was fair Desdemona, by simply telling her the story of his eventful life. But we remember that when old Ponce de Leon, the bravest of the brave, came along, he failed signally. Meeting a lovely lassie, he approached her in the wilderness. She smiled, she blushed, and whined off a tear, but said, 'Old fellow, you cannot do that again. Go away. It was your ancestor's fault. So be it, and we know that woman is always right in love and war. We recall that Othello was fair Desdemona, by simply telling her the story of his eventful life. But we remember that when old Ponce de Leon, the bravest of the brave, came along, he failed signally. Meeting a lovely lassie, he approached her in the wilderness. She smiled, she blushed, and whined off a tear, but said, 'Old fellow, you cannot do that again. Go away. It was your ancestor's fault. So be it, and we know that woman is always right in love and war. We recall that Othello was fair Desdemona, by simply telling her the story of his eventful life. But we remember that when old Ponce de Leon, the bravest of the brave, came along, he failed signally. Meeting a lovely lassie, he approached her in the wilderness. She smiled, she blushed, and whined off a tear, but said, 'Old fellow, you cannot do that again. Go away. It was your ancestor's fault. So be it, and we know that woman is always right in love and war. We recall that Othello was fair Desdemona, by simply telling her the story of his eventful life. But we remember that when old Ponce de Leon, the bravest of the brave, came along, he failed signally. Meeting a lovely lassie, he approached her in the wilderness. She smiled, she blushed, and whined off a tear, but said, 'Old fellow, you cannot do that again. Go away. It was your ancestor's fault. So be it, and we know that woman is always right in love and war. We recall that Othello was fair Desdemona, by simply telling her the story of his eventful life. But we remember that when old Ponce de Leon, the bravest of the brave, came along, he failed signally. Meeting a lovely lassie, he approached her in the wilderness. She smiled, she blushed, and whined off a tear, but said, 'Old fellow, you cannot do that again. Go away. It was your ancestor's fault. So be it, and we know that woman is always right in love and war. We recall that Othello was fair Desdemona, by simply telling her the story of his eventful life. But we remember that when old Ponce de Leon, the bravest of the brave, came along, he failed signally. Meeting a lovely lassie, he approached her in the wilderness. She smiled, she blushed, and whined off a tear, but said, 'Old fellow, you cannot do that again. Go away. It was your ancestor's fault. So be it, and we know that woman is always right in love and war. We recall that Othello was fair Desdemona, by simply telling her the story of his eventful life. But we remember that when old Ponce de Leon, the bravest of the brave, came along, he failed signally. Meeting a lovely lassie, he approached her in the wilderness. She smiled, she blushed, and whined off a tear, but said, 'Old fellow, you cannot do that again. Go away. It was your ancestor's fault. So be it, and we know that woman is always right in love and war. We recall that Othello was fair Desdemona, by simply telling her the story of his eventful life. But we remember that when old Ponce de Leon, the bravest of the brave, came along, he failed signally. Meeting a lovely lassie, he approached her in the wilderness. She smiled, she blushed, and whined off a tear, but said, 'Old fellow, you cannot do that again. Go away. It was your ancestor's fault. So be it, and we know that woman is always right in love and war. We recall that Othello was fair Desdemona, by simply telling her the story of his eventful life. But we remember that when old Ponce de Leon, the bravest of the brave, came along, he failed signally. Meeting a lovely lassie, he approached her in the wilderness. She smiled, she blushed, and whined off a tear, but said, 'Old fellow, you cannot do that again. Go away. It was your ancestor's fault. So be it, and we know that woman is always right in love and war. We recall that Othello was fair Desdemona, by simply telling her the story of his eventful life. But we remember that when old Ponce de Leon, the bravest of the brave, came along, he failed signally. Meeting a lovely lassie, he approached her in the wilderness. She smiled, she blushed, and whined off a tear, but said, 'Old fellow, you cannot do that again. Go away. It was your ancestor's fault. So be it, and we know that woman is always right in love and war. We recall that Othello was fair Desdemona, by simply telling her the story of his eventful life. But we remember that when old Ponce de Leon, the bravest of the brave, came along, he failed signally. Meeting a lovely lassie, he approached her in the wilderness. She smiled, she blushed, and whined off a tear, but said, 'Old fellow, you cannot do that again. Go away. It was your ancestor's fault. So be it, and we know that woman is always right in love and war. We recall that Othello was fair Desdemona, by simply telling her the story of his eventful life. But we remember that when old Ponce de Leon, the bravest of the brave, came along, he failed signally. Meeting a lovely lassie, he approached her in the wilderness. She smiled, she blushed, and whined off a tear, but said, 'Old fellow, you cannot do that again. Go away. It was your ancestor's fault. So be it, and we know that woman is always right in love and war. We recall that Othello was fair Desdemona, by simply telling her the story of his eventful life. But we remember that when old Ponce de Leon, the bravest of the brave, came along, he failed signally. Meeting a lovely lassie, he approached her in the wilderness. She smiled, she blushed, and whined off a tear, but said, 'Old fellow, you cannot do that again. Go away. It was your ancestor's fault. So be it, and we know that woman is always right in love and war. We recall that Othello was fair Desdemona, by simply telling her the story of his eventful life. But we remember that when old Ponce de Leon, the bravest of the brave, came along, he failed signally. Meeting a lovely lassie, he approached her in the wilderness. She smiled, she blushed, and whined off a tear, but said, 'Old fellow, you cannot do that again. Go away. It was your ancestor's fault. So be it, and we know that woman is always right in love and war. We recall that Othello was fair Desdemona, by simply telling her the story of his eventful life. But we remember that when old Ponce de Leon, the bravest of the brave, came along, he failed signally. Meeting a lovely lassie, he approached her in the wilderness. She smiled, she blushed, and whined off a tear, but said, 'Old fellow, you cannot do that again. Go away. It was your ancestor's fault. So be it, and we know that woman is always right in love and war. We recall that Othello was fair Desdemona, by simply telling her the story of his eventful life. But we remember that when old Ponce de Leon, the bravest of the brave, came along, he failed signally. Meeting a lovely lassie, he approached her in the wilderness. She smiled, she blushed, and whined off a tear, but said, 'Old fellow, you cannot do that again. Go away. It was your ancestor's fault. So be it, and we know that woman is always right in love and war. We recall that Othello was fair Desdemona, by simply telling her the story of his eventful life. But we remember that when old Ponce de Leon, the bravest of the brave, came along, he failed signally. Meeting a lovely lassie, he approached her in the wilderness. She smiled, she blushed, and whined off a tear, but said, 'Old fellow, you cannot do that again. Go away. It was your ancestor's fault. So be it, and we know that woman is always right in love and war. We recall that Othello was fair Desdemona, by simply telling her the story of his eventful life. But we remember that when old Ponce de Leon, the bravest of the brave, came along, he failed signally. Meeting a lovely lassie, he approached her in the wilderness. She smiled, she blushed, and whined off a tear, but said, 'Old fellow, you cannot do that again. Go away. It was your ancestor's fault. So be it, and we know that woman is always right in love and war. We recall that Othello was fair Desdemona, by simply telling her the story of his eventful life. But we remember that when old Ponce de Leon, the bravest of the brave, came along, he failed signally. Meeting a lovely lassie, he approached her in the wilderness. She smiled, she blushed, and whined off a tear, but said, 'Old fellow, you cannot do that again. Go away. It was your ancestor's fault. So be it, and we know that woman is always right in love and war. We recall that Othello was fair Desdemona, by simply telling her the story of his eventful life. But we remember that when old Ponce de Leon, the bravest of the brave, came along, he failed signally. Meeting a lovely lassie, he approached her in the wilderness. She smiled, she blushed, and whined off a tear, but said, 'Old fellow, you cannot do that again. Go away. It was your ancestor's fault. So be it, and we know that woman is always right in love and war. We recall that Othello was fair Desdemona, by simply telling her the story of his eventful life. But we remember that when old Ponce de Leon, the bravest of the brave, came along, he failed signally. Meeting a lovely lassie, he approached her in the wilderness. She smiled, she blushed, and whined off a tear, but said, 'Old fellow, you cannot do that again. Go away. It was your ancestor's fault. So be it, and we know that woman is always right in love and war. We recall that Othello was fair Desdemona, by simply telling her the story of his eventful life. But we remember that when old Ponce de Leon, the bravest of the brave, came along, he failed signally. Meeting a lovely lassie, he approached her in the wilderness. She smiled, she blushed, and whined off a tear, but said, 'Old fellow, you cannot do that again. Go away. It was your ancestor's fault. So be it, and we know that woman is always right in love and war. We recall that Othello was fair Desdemona, by simply telling her the story of his eventful life. But we remember that when old Ponce de Leon, the bravest of the brave, came along, he failed signally. Meeting a lovely lassie, he approached her in the wilderness. She smiled, she blushed, and whined off a tear, but said, 'Old fellow, you cannot do that again. Go away. It was your ancestor's fault. So be it, and we know that woman is always right in love and war. We recall that Othello was fair Desdemona, by simply telling her the story of his eventful life. But we remember that when old Ponce de Leon, the bravest of the brave, came along, he failed signally. Meeting a lovely lassie, he approached her in the wilderness. She smiled, she blushed, and whined off a tear, but said, 'Old fellow, you cannot do that again. Go away. It was your ancestor's fault. So be it, and we know that woman is always right in love and war. We recall that Othello was fair Desdemona, by simply telling her the story of his eventful life. But we remember that when old Ponce de Leon, the bravest of the brave, came along, he failed signally. Meeting a lovely lassie, he approached her in the wilderness. She smiled, she blushed, and whined off a tear, but said, 'Old fellow, you cannot do that again. Go away. It was your ancestor's fault. So be it, and we know that woman is always right in love and war. We recall that Othello was fair Desdemona, by simply telling her the story of his eventful life. But we remember that when old Ponce de Leon, the bravest of the brave, came along, he failed signally. Meeting a lovely lassie, he approached her in the wilderness. She smiled, she blushed, and whined off a tear, but said, 'Old fellow, you cannot do that again. Go away. It was your ancestor's fault. So be it, and we know that woman is always right in love and war. We recall that Othello was fair Desdemona, by simply telling her the story of his eventful life. But we remember that when old Ponce de Leon, the bravest of the brave, came along, he failed signally. Meeting a lovely lassie, he approached her in the wilderness. She smiled, she blushed, and whined off a tear, but said, 'Old fellow, you cannot do that again. Go away. It was your ancestor's fault. So be it, and we know that woman is always right in love and war. We recall that Othello was fair Desdemona, by simply telling her the story of his eventful life. But we remember that when old Ponce de Leon, the bravest of the brave, came along, he failed signally. Meeting a lovely lassie, he approached her in the wilderness. She smiled, she blushed, and whined off a tear, but said, 'Old fellow, you cannot do that again. Go away. It was your ancestor's fault. So be it, and we know that woman is always right in love and war. We recall that Othello was fair Desdemona, by simply telling her the story of his eventful life. But we remember that when old Ponce de Leon, the bravest of the brave, came along, he failed signally. Meeting a lovely lassie, he approached her in the wilderness. She smiled, she blushed, and whined off a tear, but said, 'Old fellow, you cannot do that again. Go away. It was your ancestor's fault. So be it, and we know that woman is always right in love and war. We recall that Othello was fair Desdemona, by simply telling her the story of his eventful life. But we remember that when old Ponce de Leon, the bravest of the brave, came along, he failed signally. Meeting a lovely lassie, he approached her in the wilderness. She smiled, she blushed, and whined off a tear, but said, 'Old fellow, you cannot do that again. Go away. It was your ancestor's fault. So be it, and we know that woman is always right in love and war. We recall that Othello was fair Desdemona, by simply telling her the story of his eventful life. But we remember that when old Ponce de Leon, the bravest of the brave, came along, he failed signally. Meeting a lovely lassie, he approached her in the wilderness. She smiled, she blushed, and whined off a tear, but said, 'Old fellow, you cannot do that again. Go away. It was your ancestor's fault. So be it, and we know that woman is always right in love and war. We recall that Othello was fair Desdemona, by simply telling her the story of his eventful life. But we remember that when old Ponce de Leon, the bravest of the brave, came along, he failed signally. Meeting a lovely lassie, he approached her in the wilderness. She smiled, she blushed, and whined off a tear, but said, 'Old fellow, you cannot do that again. Go away. It was your ancestor's fault. So be it, and we know that woman is always right in love and war. We recall that Othello was fair Desdemona, by simply telling her the story of his eventful life. But we remember that when old Ponce de Leon, the bravest of the brave, came along, he failed signally. Meeting a lovely lassie, he approached her in the wilderness. She smiled, she blushed, and whined off a tear, but said, 'Old fellow, you cannot do that again. Go away. It was your ancestor's fault. So be it, and we know that woman is always right in love and war. We recall that Othello was fair Desdemona, by simply telling her the story of his eventful life. But we remember that when old Ponce de Leon, the bravest of the brave, came along, he failed signally.